

Fiona Ma for Lieutenant Governor 2026

Campaign Newsletter | April 2026

Hi Friend,

As we move into spring, I'm energized by the continued momentum of our campaign and grateful for the opportunity to connect with communities across California.

April is Earth Month, and it's also a time to reflect on the progress we're making together as we are building a strong coalition, standing with workers, and continuing to show up for Californians in every corner of our state.

Here are a few highlights from the past month:

CAMPAIGN MILESTONE

Record-Breaking Endorsement Momentum Across California

I'm incredibly grateful for the growing support our campaign is receiving from leaders and organizations across California.

We are proud to have earned a record number of endorsements from a broad coalition that reflects the strength and diversity of our state — including labor, public safety, elected leaders, housing advocates, and Democratic clubs.

Recent endorsements include:

- Unite Here!
- AFSCME California
- Communications Workers of America – District 9
- Democratic Party of San Fernando Valley
- California Federation of Labor Unions
- California Professional Firefighters
- California YIMBY
- Sacramento Democratic Alliance
- Avance L.A. Democratic Club
- Alice B. Toklas Democratic Club
- Heart of LA Democratic Club
- San Francisco Women's Political Committee
- San Francisco Eastern Neighborhoods Democratic Club
- Stonewall Young Democrats
- Western States Council of Sheet Metal Workers
- United Nurses Associations of California/Union of Health Care Professionals

- United Domestic Workers of America Local 3930
- Los Angeles County Board of Supervisor and President Obama's US Secretary Of Labor - Hilda Solis

These endorsements represent millions of Californians — working families, first responders, advocates, and community leaders who believe in experienced leadership and real results.

This momentum reflects the coalition we are building together — and the shared commitment to moving California forward.

FEATURED EVENT

Standing with Veterans at the USS Midway

I was proud to join state leaders, military officials, and community partners at the USS Midway Museum in San Diego to support Senate Bill 1407 — legislation that provides meaningful tax relief for military retirees and their families.

Standing alongside Senator Bob Archuleta, Senator Catherine Blakespear, and retired Rear Admiral David Boone, we made it clear that California must do more to support the men and women who have served our country.

Too many military families are leaving California because of the cost of living and tax burden. That is not just a challenge — it is something we have to fix.

“California owes a profound debt to the men and women who have served our country, and to the families who stand beside them. SB 1407 is about honoring service with real, tangible support. Removing outdated caps and income limits can ensure that more military families receive the financial relief they deserve.”

Women's History Month Wrap

As Women's History Month came to a close, I had the opportunity to reflect on the incredible coalition of women supporting this campaign across California.

From state legislators and local elected officials to labor leaders, Democratic clubs, and community organizations, this coalition represents millions of women who are shaping the future of our state.

My commitment has always been to expand opportunity, strengthen economic security, and ensure women have a seat at every table, and I am proud to stand alongside so many leaders doing exactly that.

Agriculture Leadership & Recognition

My work in agriculture continues to be one of the most meaningful parts of my journey in public service.

From my partnership with the California Farm Bureau to co-founding the San Francisco Farm Bureau, I have seen firsthand how agriculture connects us all — from food security to education to economic resilience.

This work is about building understanding between urban and rural communities and making sure we continue to support the people who feed California and the world.

I am grateful to have received the inaugural Champion of Agriculture award from the California Farm Bureau.

World Agri-Tech + Earth Month Preview

I was proud to participate in World Agri-Tech in San Francisco, where leaders from across the world came together to discuss the future of agriculture, sustainability, and innovation.

These conversations are critical as we look ahead to Earth Month — and to how we continue advancing climate-smart agriculture, clean energy investment, and policies that support both our environment and our economy.

St. Patrick's Day

On St. Patrick's Day, I joined San Francisco Firefighters and San Francisco Sheriffs to share a simple message: celebrate responsibly and look out for one another.

Public safety is always a priority, and even on days of celebration, it is important that we take care of our communities and make smart choices. We all did and brought some luck of the Irish and Irish-adjacent to San Francisco.

 Lunar New Year Celebration — Year of the Fire Horse

I was proud to join the annual San Francisco Elected State Delegation Lunar New Year celebration at the State Building as we welcomed the Year of the Fire Horse.

It was an incredible turnout with so much energy that brought together community leaders, families, and supporters to celebrate culture, tradition, and the strength of our communities.

Thank you to our emcees Franco Finn of the Golden State Warriors and Miss California Catherine Liang, and to the talented performers who made the event so special. I am also grateful to our volunteers and sponsors, including Jade Wu, Chinese Central High School, Henry Chen of AA Bakery, and the Chinese Art Association of San Francisco, for helping make this celebration possible.

These moments matter. They bring people together, celebrate our diversity, and reflect the vibrant communities that make California so strong.

Abilities Expo Engagement

I was honored to spend time at the Abilities Expo, where I met with advocates, families, and leaders working to expand accessibility and opportunity for all Californians.

Ensuring that everyone has access to economic opportunity and full participation in our communities is not just important, it is essential to building a stronger California.

Community & Culture – Pawgent + Events

One of the things I enjoy most about this campaign is connecting with people in every kind of setting - from community events to fun and unexpected moments like the Pawgent.

These experiences are a reminder that public service is about people, connection, and showing up in ways that matter.

My very own King Henry requests your royal presence this year! We are calling all fur babies and their hoomans to join us for the 4th Annual Le Precious Pawgeant on April 11, 2026 from 1-4 PM (Pawgeant at 2 PM) at 699 Delancey Street, San Francisco!

Fiona Ma in the Media

My Fiona Ma for Lieutenant Governor campaign continued to generate strong statewide visibility in March, earning attention from top political media while highlighting my leadership on California's economy, governance, and future growth.

- Featured in POLITICO Playbook – Governance Reform Leadership:
I was featured in POLITICO California Playbook outlining a bold vision for improving state government — including eliminating the outdated Board of Equalization and advancing a joint ticket system for Governor and Lieutenant Governor to strengthen accountability and cooperation. READ MORE
  - $2.4 Billion Investment in California’s Future:
I announced a major bond sale to support infrastructure, housing, and economic development across the state. READ MORE
  - Reaching Voters Across California’s Diverse Communities
I joined Vietnamese-language television and other community media outlets to speak directly with voters about our campaign and the future of California.
Reaching voters where they are — in their communities and in their languages — is how we build a campaign that truly reflects this state.
California’s strength is its diversity, and I am committed to making sure every community is heard, included, and represented. WATCH

Ballots Are Coming — Make a Plan to Vote

Starting May 4, ballots will begin arriving in mailboxes across California.

This is an important moment for our campaign — and for the future of our state. Elections are decided by those who show up, and I want to make sure you are ready.

Whether you plan to vote by mail or in person, now is the time to make your plan:

- Check your voter registration
- Watch for your ballot in the mail
- Return your ballot early or vote in person

Every vote matters — and your voice is critical in this election.
